More Room For Safety
In Louisville Area

That there is still room for improvement in motor vehicle safety in the Louisville area is demonstrated in the fatality figures released this week by the Louisville Safety Council for January. In this report E. H. Hack, managing director, shows that there were 8 deaths in the area including Louisville, Jefferson County, Floyd and Clark Counties, Indiana, from public motor vehicles. A year ago for the same period there were only 4.

In homes there were 10 deaths from preventable causes, same as for the same period one year ago. Occupational deaths, confined to the City of Louisville for the month of January, 1948, were 2, just that many more than in the entire area last year. There were no more public death accidents in the area from accidents of a public nature in Louisville.

These are cold, hard figures, and submitted without comment, but they carry a warning that highway safety is not what it should be and that more care is needed in the home and elsewhere.

Buses and bundles or bottles left on stairways have been reported to be responsible for many of the falling accidents in homes and other buildings. Louisville hotel men, meeting with fire department heads and other officials have promised to install sprinkler systems and other safeguards to conserve human life, without being forced to do so.

John H. Day Killed
By Auto Saturday

John H. Day, 67, who was struck by a car on Broadway Road, near his home, 410 Jarvis Lane, Saturday night, February 7, at 11:30, was dead upon arrival at General Hospital.

He is survived by a son, William H. Day and three grandsons. He was the step-father of Mrs. C. G. Katzman, Jefferson town, and a member of the Jefferson Methodist church.

Funeral services were at 2 o'clock Tuesday afternoon from Neuharth Funeral Home, and burial was in Evergreen Cemetery.

Following the program there will be a silver tea in observance of Founder's Day.

All members and friends are urged to attend.

Relief Food Distributed in Europe

Two Italian companies stand over a container of dried milk, furnished by the International Children's Emergency Fund (ICEF), as part of the United Nations efforts to save the life of a generation of European children from hunger and war. Life-saving food is now being distributed by ICEF in 13 European countries.

MINISTER GUEST

Jewess At Jeff town,
Fisherville Sunday

Fisherville Church of Christ invites the public to attend a special Sunday afternoon service, February 15, at 2:30, when Mrs. Hyman Jacobs, a native of Bethlehem, Palestine, will speak on the ethics of the Holy Land and what the partitioning of the land means to both parties. Arab and Jew. She will also show the costumes worn by the Bethlehem men and women, along with other illustrations.

Mrs. Jacobs, now an American citizen, is the wife of a Presbyterian evangelist. They make their home in Sioux City, Iowa. Educated in Jerusalem, where she taught school, Mrs. Jacobs has traveled extensively, this being her third trip to the United States. She plans a trip to Palestine this summer to visit relatives and friends.

She was one of the principal speakers at the Farm and Home Convention held recently in Lexington, and spoke to the student body at Jeffersontown High School, Thursday of this week. At 8 o'clock Sunday evening she will be at the Jeffersontown Methodist Church to speak at a union meeting.

National Honors Get
4-H Team to Washington

Associate County Agent H. C. Brown is in Washington, D.C., this week with two of his 4-H Club boys, recent agriculture production contest winners. The two champion producers are William Stutzbach and a Raymond Metzger, selected by the National Junior Vegetable Growers' Association.

Thursday they were to demonstrate construction and use of electrically heated hotbeds before the Southern States Extension Workers' Conference at its meeting in the capital city. They are expected to return home Sunday.

Dr. B. A. Muster Buried
In Evergreen Thursday

Dr. B. A. Muster, 65, a physician in LaRue County since leaving here about 40 years ago, died Tuesday morning. He was found dead in bed, at his home at Lyons, apparently from a heart attack.

A graduate of Centre College, and the University of Louisville School of Medicine, he had served in the Upper House of the State Legislature.

He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Bessie Crady Muster; a son, George Muster; daughter, Mrs. Vivian Ewing Greenburg, Ky.; his father, George W. Muster, and a sister, Mrs. N. A. Jones of Long Island, N.Y.

The funeral was Thursday from the residence, followed by burial in Evergreen Cemetery.

Philharmonic Audition

OUR DEMOCRACY

Our reliance is in the law of liberty which God has planned in us. Our defense is in the spirit which prizes liberty as the heritage of all men in all lands everywhere.

With malice toward none; with charity for all; with firmness in the right, as God gives us to see the right; let us strive on to finish the work we are in; to do all which may achieve a just and lasting peace among ourselves, and with all nations.

...that this nation, under God, shall have a new birth of freedom, and that government of the people, by the people, for the people shall not perish from the earth.

Dog Lovers Protest
Curb On Steel Traps

Owners of farm dogs and pets all over the state are aroused by House Bill 207, now before the Legislature, which seeks to repeal Kentucky's anti-fur law, the Kentucky Humane Society.

The bill is scheduled to come up for third reading and final passage by the House on February 6. But action was delayed when protests were received by Governor Earle C. Clements and legislators from a number of organizations and individual farmers.

Most of the protests stress the fact that a large number of dogs are caught in illegal snare traps, suffer steel traps, and suffer mutilation and often a slow and horrible death.

"If you should ever see a dog caught in a trap, his paw terribly mangled, you'd want to throw the book at illegal trappers," said Tom Fuller, State game warden in Oldham County. "Many times I have found traps set in a right-way they lay there and starve to death, helpless to free them."

Miss Mary Laidley of Covington, Kenton County humane officer, has asked dog lovers all over Kentucky to write to the Governor and their representatives and senators, urging defeat of the bill.

Democrats Join G. O. P. In Vote For Income Tax Cut

Washington, D. C.—A 84% majority in the House last week by a vote of 297 to 120 with Rep. Thurston Ledbetter, Kentucky Third District, voting "yes."

In addition to solid Republican support, the measure received 60 Democratic votes, giving it a two-thirds majority over a two-thirds vote margin over a two-thirds majority.

The suit is one of the largest civil actions in history.

Each year the U.S. Deutch on Russia, which everyone enjoyed very much. Things to do in your garden during February, by Edward and Harriet, were 17 members present and 3 visitors.

Civic League Head Asks
Governor To Veto Bill

Stating that each Kentucky county should be permitted to determine whether it is to be wet or dry, James T. Robertson, president of the Louisville Civic League called upon Governor Earle Clements to veto the newly passed local option bill.

McKay, Others Honored
At Birthday Rites

Several of the Alumni of the Law Department of the University of Louisville were honored Monday night by being presented at the Sequi-Centennial celebration with bronze medallions commemorating the event, including three graduates of the Law Department of the University.

Wallace A. McKay, Robert C. Lougher and J. Frank McKeown. Mr. McKay, with the exception of 3 and one-half years spent at the University of Louisville, has been active in the practice of law for over 30 years.

The University of Louisville was originally established February 9, 1788, when Louisville was a small city.

Several thousand were present at the celebration, including a number of military and civic leaders, who served with President John W. Taylor of the University of Louisville the first year of the Civil War, 1861.

McKay is contemplating retiring at the end of this year and devote all of his time to civic and fraternal work and writing. He is now preparing a "History of the State and Bar History During the Last Half Century," on which he has already gathered considerable material.

Only four attorneys who were practicing in Louisville when Mr. McKay became a member of the bar are now living.

The book Mr. McKay is working on is being looked forward to with keen interest by the lawyers in this section of the State.

Protests Ruinous
Pruning Of Trees

Homesteaders should protest against ruinous pruning of trees, where nothing is left but the trunk and a few lower limbs of branches, says Prof. R. N. Elliott, of the University of Kentucky College of Agriculture and Home Economics. "Trees trimmed in this manner are liable to serious injury, and usually die in a few years," he adds.

Dead branches of trees, and live ones which are necessary to remove, should be taken out in February, Mr. Elliott said.

THE JEFFERSONIAN

ESTABLISHED JUNE 1907 - AN INDEPENDENT COUNTY NEWSPAPER

JEFFERSONTOWN, KY., FRIDAY, FEBRUARY 13, 1948

Vol. 41 No. 39

40 YEARS AGO

From Shepherdsville, on "Ground Hog Day," 1908, J. R. Z. writes interestingly to The Jeffersonian, "Watertown, Ky., or the Watertown, Jefferson-town, Ky.," about the beautiful Salt River Valley, declaring it is "A Paradise on Earth." "Down here where Salt River makes daily runs on her banks, and where saffron tea and fried chicken are often companions at the same meal," he writes, "we do not produce great writers, male or female, (such as Henry Waterson or Eliza Symmes Miller-Slaughter) but make up for it by being awfully good and going to church regularly. A beautiful writer is half divine even where he is a man, and where she is a real woman, she is doubly divine. For some time 'Rills From The Town Pump' have assuaged my thirst, and not killing, am glad the gifted author of them has continued to adorn and enrich your columns under another heading." Then reverting to the Salt River Valley, he continues, "Down here in this Edenic valley level by the silvery, murmuring tides of the classic Salt, and tenderly kissed by the whispering winds we have our abode, and are vain enough to account it 'paradise found.' The Valley of Hussan Abdul, so lovely and entrancing to Lalla Rookh, would prove commonplace beside our lovely valley. In the springtime when the trees begin to bud, and flowers decorate and beautify the hills, this part of Kentucky is beautiful, but later on when midsummer comes it is grand beyond description."

After mentioning the entrancing August moonlight nights, with mockingbirds singing, flower beds here and there, air so balmy and seductive that "you deem it is a crime" to stay indoors, "he adds more to prove that 'That is Shepherdsville, but not all of it by a ten gallon jugful. Our girls are so pretty and sweet that methinks there will not have to be any change of looks or heart when they go from this paradise on earth to that other paradise beyond the storm-beaten river of Ohio." Then, reminding that he had been indulging himself to some length, the Shepherdsville correspondent changed his style abruptly and observed that Harry Thaxt was representing "Pittsburgh in a New York lunatic asylum," that "Jim Hargis is dead again, already once"—The Jeffersonian announced that Judge Hargis had been shot and killed by the Judge's son, Beech Hargis, Feb. 6, at Jackson, Beech having been drunk. The tragedy, which shook the entire state of Kentucky at the time was said to have been all the more deplorable because Beech had a good mother who tried, unsuccessfully, to reform him, and suffered more from his did after his conviction and sentence to prison for the deed.

In the report of the killing the Jeffersonian news dispatch said, "Young Hargis fired three shots in rapid succession. . . then two more. . . Judge Hargis was carried home where he expired in a few minutes." The tragedy occurred in Judge Hargis' store and no one saw the beginning of the struggle. . . "Kentucky is making secure her title to the name 'dark and bloody ground,' the Shepherdsville correspondent remarked, adding, "In these worst days which have come upon us it is a case of each man for himself and trust, then the devil for all."

Farmers of his neighborhood were puzzled over 60 cent corn and $4.50 hogs. "It's another case of cheap animals and high priced feed," he concluded.

Poland, a nation with a thousand years of history, is one of Europe's most important bread-baskets. Her flat plains, crossed by important rivers, stretch out to the horizon and furnish perfect agricultural land for 90 percent of her 21,000,000 inhabitants. Industry, too, Poland is an important center, producing textiles, coal, iron, forest products and minerals. Her borders are here shown as outlined by the "Potsdam Agreement" of 1945, pending a final peace treaty with Germany, and include about 125,000 square miles between the Bug in the East and the Oder and Neisse Rivers in the West. Poland's Permanent Representative at United Nations Headquarters is Dr. Juliusz Katsuchy; her flag is divided horizontally into red and white fields.

—this in 1908—high class heavy mules were being bought for from $200 to $250; smaller mules for $125.50 and up, each. . . Jesse Brown of Cedar Creek had bought 20 acres of land from his father and was planning to build "in the spring." . . Burley tobacco growers, according to advices from Winchester, were considering a "cut-out," and owners of 80,000 acres of tobacco land had pledged to sign up that much not to be planted in tobacco in 1908. . . Top price at a Lexington horse sale was $7,500, paid by Walter R. Cox of Nashua, N. H., for George Gano, a son of Gambetta Wilkes. . . The interurban railroad was helping to build up sections from Louisville to Jefferson-town and E. R. Spow, real estate man, and progressive citizen predicted more than 50,000 homes, as there were plenty of beautiful building sites all along the route.

Mr. William Garrett Woods, born at South Park, died at the age of 82, Sunday morning, Feb. 2, in his early days he had hunted the wild turkey and the deer in this section of Kentucky. Of the "old school" as a gentleman, he was kind, courteous and charitable, a good neighbor and friend. . . "J. R. Z." from Shepherdsville asserts that Henry Waterson, ("Marse Henry") is the greatest editor in the country today. "He does not always advise 'this brand of Democracy,' as shown in his editorials, but he does admire his 'vast store of learning, and his great ability to sling ink.' . . A pure food bill presented and passed by the Legislature was to be enforced in Kentucky.

Valley Station News By Mrs. T. R. Smith
Mr. William L. (Bud) Smith passed away at his residence, near Cane Run Road in Pleasure Ridge community, Sunday, February 8, at 1 p.m. in his 89th year. He was one of the oldest members of the Valley Station mailing center and lived in a home he built on a part of the old Hollis place, where he grew up. He was jovial and enjoyed getting out. He was very happy to attend the golden wedding anniversary of his sister, Mrs. Clarence Terry, recently. He was a good father and reared a large family. He preceded him in death many years. He was a faithful member of the Nazarene Church, of Greenwood Road, and attended services there about three weeks ago. I am told; also that he took his bed in illness about a week ago. He leaves a daughter, Mrs. Morris Hollis; four sons, James M., Charles W., Ray and Grover Selbert; a sister, Mrs. Phoebe Selbert and brother, Samuel Hollis; also survived by three half sisters, Mrs. Clarence Terry, Mrs. Anna Terry and Mrs. Jess Dickland; a half brother, Marion Bailey, Sr.; 10 grandchildren and 15 great-grandchildren.

Mr. R. J. H. Shively was the speaker at the funeral of Mrs. Mary Elizabeth Shively, which was held at the chapel of W. G. Hardy Funeral Home, 4101 Dixie National Highway, Tuesday, February 10, at 2:30 p.m., and interment in Louisville Memorial Park. Personal sympathy is extended to the family of this old acquaintance.

A good attendance at Beechland, Sunday, considering the weather. This class will not hold its regular meeting this month due to weather hindrance.

We are sorry to report Mr. J. Gus Scott, of Greenwood Road, seriously ill at this writing, Tuesday. His near relatives and family are giving him every care.

Beverly Owen Smith, son of the writer, is improving after an operation at the Baptist Hospital, where he went Sunday evening, a week ago.

Newburg News By Mrs. J. H. Shively
"The Greatest Things in Life" was the sermon subject Sunday, given by Bro. Spangler at the Newburg Christian Church. Mr. Spangler, who is pastor of the church, is also assistant superintendent, was back today and conducted the Sunday school administration. So glad to see Mr. and Mrs. O. J. Stivers back, also all the Kaufman family and Mr. Newburg. But we were missing Mr. and Mrs. Lilly and many more of the faithful ones.

A precious little baby girl, named Mary Elizabeth Shively, in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Hart Friday night but the death angel came and claimed her Saturday afternoon at 3:30. A great host of friends and relatives called at this home Sunday afternoon to extend sympathy.

This extreme winter weather of continued snow, sleet, and slush has brought many accidents, losses and sickness. Mr. Calvin Hart has been sick, also his son, Ronnie, and Thursday night Mr. R. J. Cook came home from work quite sick, also a very strenuous day and is still sick. Hope he may be able to go back to work soon. Mr. Wm. Oliver is also on the sick list.

Regret so very much we could not attend "The Shower" Friday night at Mrs. Barnes Bradley for Miss Mary Elizabeth Isaac. We know it was a very enjoyable affair.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Bischoff and daughter moved to their new home last week. We shall miss so much.

Mr. R. J. Cook missed Sunday school on account of sickness. Mrs. J. H. Shively returned $350 over to Mr. O. J. Stivers Sunday to be applied to the Parsonage Fund, $150 from the Newburg Circle and $200 from Mr. Walter Newman, Sr., through the Newburg Circle.

Dimes are still coming in for the March of Dimes. Mrs. Cook class and one little boy in her class, Ronnie Hart, gave $100 in dimes he had saved. Mr. and Mrs. L. P. Jones and Mrs. C. R. Hart enjoyed "An Oyster Stew" at Mrs. Jimmie Shipp Friday night in Beechland. Sympathy is extended to the survivors of "Willie Bence" who passed away last week.

Mrs. Shirley Nebbett and Mrs. J. H. Shively ventured out Friday to Mrs. Jones and Mrs. Hart's to quilt. Had a good dinner and enjoyed quilting but almost snowed out. But Mrs. Jones got to our homes through a drifting snow. So sorry the rest of the ladies could not come.

My birthday gifts are still coming. Today a dear friend of mine, Mrs. Carl Frey, handed me a package at Sunday school and behold, a plastic coat hanger and a beautiful colorful scarf. Thanks, "Lily." So nice to be remembered.

A dear friend,

Funeral was held at the chapel of W. G. Hardy Funeral Home, 4101 Dixie National Highway, Tuesday, February 10, at 2:30 p.m., and interment in Louisville Memorial Park.

Personal sympathy is extended to the family of this old acquaintance.

A good attendance at Beechland, Sunday, considering the weather. This class will not hold its regular meeting this month due to weather hindrance.

We are sorry to report Mr. J. Gus Scott, of Greenwood Road, seriously ill at this writing, Tuesday. His near relatives and family are giving him every care.

Beverly Owen Smith, son of the writer, is improving after an operation at the Baptist Hospital, where he went Sunday evening, a week ago.

This extreme winter weather of continued snow, sleet, and slush has brought many accidents, losses and sickness. Mr. Calvin Hart has been sick, also his son, Ronnie, and Thursday night Mr. R. J. Cook came home from work quite sick, also a very strenuous day and is still sick. Hope he may be able to go back to work soon. Mr. Wm. Oliver is also on the sick list.

Regret so very much we could not attend "The Shower" Friday night at Mrs. Barnes Bradley for Miss Mary Elizabeth Isaac. We know it was a very enjoyable affair.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Bischoff and daughter moved to their new home last week. We shall miss so much.

Mr. R. J. Cook missed Sunday school on account of sickness. Mrs. J. H. Shively returned $350 over to Mr. O. J. Stivers Sunday to be applied to the Parsonage Fund, $150 from the Newburg Circle and $200 from Mr. Walter Newman, Sr., through the Newburg Circle.

Dimes are still coming in for the March of Dimes. Mrs. Cook class and one little boy in her class, Ronnie Hart, gave $100 in dimes he had saved. Mr. and Mrs. L. P. Jones and Mrs. C. R. Hart enjoyed "An Oyster Stew" at Mrs. Jimmie Shipp Friday night in Beechland. Sympathy is extended to the survivors of "Willie Bence" who passed away last week.

High View News

By Mrs. Joe Baets
The Aaks show which was to be held the last of January and was postponed is still on the waiting list until the weather gets better.

Mrs. Katherine Higgs is on the sick list again. Miss Charlene Sovall has had pneumonia. She is some better and we hope for her a speedy recovery.

Miss Geraldine Dunnavan was Sunday afternoon guest of Miss Carolyn Baets.

Garnett Baets spent two days and nights in town with his uncle, Hilary Baets, so he could get to work on account of the bad roads.

Rev. Watson, wife and three children, minister at the Baptist mission in High View, was Sunday dinner and supper guests of Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Goins. Others there were Mr. and Mrs. Billie Goins and Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Boston and baby.

Mrs. Clarence Braden has been real sick but is better at this time. Mr. and Mrs. Joe Baets and children called on Mr. and Mrs. Walden Roberts Saturday night. The men folk and children then attended the basketball game at Fern Creek.

Mr. and Mrs. William Downing spent a few days last week with her mother, Mrs. Carl Hermanson and Mr. Hermanson and Mrs. Edith Roy over in Indiana.

Well, folks, news is scarce with me. I haven't been out much through this snowy spell. It is fine weather to catch up on your sewing and that is what I have been doing. Mr. Baets is now at the University of Kentucky to the completion of the job he was on so I don't know just how my sewing will progress with a man around the house all the time to keep me company. Ha! Ha!

Two villages for veterans at the University of Kentucky—Coopers-town and Shawneetown—are now occupied by more than 500 families.

THE JOHN DEERE POTATO PLANTER

This year get your potato seed into the ground on schedule. Plant accurately. . . at four miles per hour. . . with a dependable John Deere Potato Planter. . . the planter with the 12-arm picker wheel. You'll not only plant accurately but plant at a uniform depth. . . in evenly-spaced rows. . . with fertilizer accurately-placed to increase your crop yields.

Check over these outstanding features:
Speed. . . the improved planting mechanism, with 12 picker arms, reduces the rotating speed of the picker drum by at least 50 percent. This results in greater accuracy at the faster tractor speeds modern growers want to use.

Accuracy. . . is also increased by separating the 12-picker arms into two rows of 6, allowing more space around each picker arm to permit the seed to seat itself properly for picking.

Uniform Placement: picker arms place the seed at desired spacing in rows with greater precision than a human hand. Staple-type picker points assure positive and gentle picking action; adjustable for any size seed.

Proper Fertilization: fertilizer placement is of the approved, band-type JOHN DEERE QUALITY FARM EQUIPMENT AND SERVICE method with easy and accurate regulation of quantity and depth.

Careful Coverings: covering disks available for shallow covering, hillside planting or for throwing up high beds.

Simple, Sturdy Construction: one-piece, heavy, cold-rolled axle; all-steel channel frame construction; extra-strong wheels; the simplest and heaviest duty features make it the strongest planter on the market.

Large Capacity: All-Steel Hoppers. . . hold four bushels. . . are lower than in other planters and, thus, are more easily loaded.

Adaptable to All Requirements: adjustments are easily made for changing spacing; relocating the fertilizer picker points to accommodate the various sizes of seed; and for moving units on the two-row axle for planting 32- to 42-inch rows.

Easy Operation: a single lever, with improved side trigger grip, controls seed placement, fertilization, covering, and the single clutch, which governs all driven parts.

Light Draft. . . and perfect balance are achieved by the simplicity and reduction of operating parts. Planter is easy to turn. . . easy to operate. See us for further details.

Valley Station News
By Mrs. T. R. Smith
Mr. William L. (Bud) Smith passed away at his residence, near Cane Run Road in Pleasure Ridge community, Sunday, February 8, at 1 p.m. in his 89th year. He was one of the oldest members of the Valley Station mailing center and lived in a home he built on a part of the old Hollis place, where he grew up. He was jovial and enjoyed getting out. He was very happy to attend the golden wedding anniversary of his sister, Mrs. Clarence Terry, recently. He was a good father and reared a large family. He preceded him in death many years. He was a faithful member of the Nazarene Church, of Greenwood Road, and attended services there about three weeks ago. I am told; also that he took his bed in illness about a week ago. He leaves a daughter, Mrs. Morris Hollis; four sons, James M., Charles W., Ray and Grover Selbert; a sister, Mrs. Phoebe Selbert and brother, Samuel Hollis; also survived by three half sisters, Mrs. Clarence Terry, Mrs. Anna Terry and Mrs. Jess Dickland; a half brother, Marion Bailey, Sr.; 10 grandchildren and 15 great-grandchildren.

Mr. R. J. H. Shively was the speaker at the funeral of Mrs. Mary Elizabeth Shively, which was held at the chapel of W. G. Hardy Funeral Home, 4101 Dixie National Highway, Tuesday, February 10, at 2:30 p.m., and interment in Louisville Memorial Park. Personal sympathy is extended to the family of this old acquaintance.

Farn Creek News

Mrs. Leonard Haag

Beulah C.E. won a silver cup for having the largest attendance at the C.E. Gateway District rally several weeks ago.

Mrs. Richard Burn and children and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Turner were dinner guests, Sunday of Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Mattingly.

Dr. Chamberlain, of the seminary, was our guest minister, Sunday.

Glad to report Mrs. John Egan is home from the hospital. She was able to ride home in a car and stood the trip nicely.

Barbara Hornbeck is home with the chicken pox. Hope she will soon be back in school. Jimmy is taking them with her.

Mrs. Taylor Lewis and children have gone to Ohio to visit her father.

Mrs. and Mr. Joe Dillingham had as dinner guests, Sunday, Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Bates, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Bates and Mr. and Mrs. Paul Bates and children. Afternoon callers were Mr. and Mrs. Robert Bates and children.

In spite of the awful weather last Thursday night some few members of the Business Women's Circle put on their boots and ventured out in the snow. There were nine members and two husbands as guests. There was no meeting, but those present enjoyed their supper.

Mrs. and Mr. Elliott Hornbeck spent the day, Sunday, at Milton, Ky., at the home of her parents.

Alfalfa Plant Has 37-Inch Tap Root

When T. A. Ballou of Eubank took to the Pulaski county agent's office an alfalfa plant with a 37-inch tap root, he wasn't sure just how long the root was, since it broke off when he pulled the plant.

This shows," commented County Agent Hugh Hurst, "that alfalfa goes deep into the soil to get plant food that other plants can't reach. Alfalfa roots also aerate the soil and bring up moisture that ordinary plants do not get. That's why alfalfa stays green during dry weather so much better than other crops."

Men Hate "New Look"

At last the men mustered enough courage to come right out and say they don't like the "new look" in women's fashions. Ted Malone, well known radio personality, while serving as a member of Cosmopolitan magazine's male-tested fashion show at the Stork Club in New York that when he mentioned the "new look" on two of his radio programs he received 7,432 letters assailing the new fashions. The jury which also included Arthur Hale, Richard Kollmar, Peter Roberts and Peter Donald agreed that the new fashions were too extreme. They selected the cocktail suit in Jellie's worsted crepe, shown above, as the suit most likely to succeed with men.

Ballou sowed an acre and three-quarters of alfalfa five years ago and liked it so well that he sowed seven acres more in 1947.

Agent Hurst says "March is a good month to sow alfalfa. It needs good ground, land that has been limed and phosphated, and land that is well drained. The seed should be inoculated."

Phillip Swigert Lodge visited the Old Mason's Home Sunday afternoon. Bro. Jack Curry delivered the sermon. He is the minister of Fisherville Church of Christ. Twelve or fourteen members of this church sang four songs. The old folks seemed to enjoy it all very much and invited Bro. Jack and his singers to come back soon. Sorry to report there want but four members of the lodge who attended. They were Mr. Clarence Baskett, Mr. Joe Baskett, Mr. Frank Coburn and Mr. Robert Long. Of course their families were with them, also Mrs. Alfred Knapp.

Bro. Brown and Mrs. Brown, minister of Fisherville Baptist Church, took Sunday dinner with Mr. and Mrs. Dave Risner and daughter. In the afternoon they visited Mr. and Mrs. Claude Lloyd.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Kaufman and children visited Mr. and Mrs. Levy Frederick Sunday afternoon. The twins, Hettie Mae and Billy Faye, are spending this week with their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Levy Frederick.

Mr. and Mrs. Claude Lloyd visited Mr. and Mrs. Willie Friday afternoon. Mr. and Mrs. Bob Reid's visitors Sunday afternoon were Mrs. Reynolds Hefley and daughter, and Mr. and Mrs. Lee Hite and daughter.

Visitors of Mr. and Mrs. Warren Neal Sunday were Mr. and Mrs. Harry Neal, Jr., and Mr. and Mrs. Buford Neal.

Mr. and Mrs. John Horner and family spent Sunday evening with Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Marton.

Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Marton spent Sunday with Mrs. Marton's mother, Mrs. Georgia Roberts. They also visited Mr. and Mrs. Birge Risner and family.

Miss Verna Frederick spent last week with her sister, Mrs. Bill Kaufman.

Mrs. Taylor Bradbury called on her mother, Mrs. W. E. Carrithers, Friday afternoon.

Master Jerry Watson spent Sunday night with his mother, Mrs. Sid Perryman and Mr. Perryman.

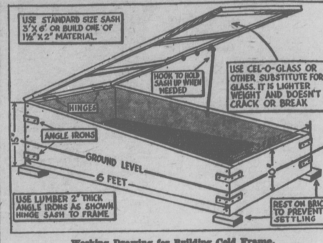

Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Schaffer and baby spent Tuesday with Mr. and Mrs. Levy Frederick.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Long and girls spent Tuesday with Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Graham and daughter.

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Durbin and children visited Mr. and Mrs. Paul Lammaster and children Sunday afternoon and evening.

Bro. Jack Curry, Mrs. Curry,

Cold Frame is Basic Tool For Your Freedom Garden

Working Drawing for Building Cold Frame.

A cold frame is basic equipment for every home garden which is managed with economy. In every month of the year it can be used for the purpose of growing plants for the garden, while saving money for the owner.

It is an ancient device, antedating the invention of glass, and the modern trend is toward the use of light, unbreakable plastic, instead of the glass sash on which there is likely to be heavy breakage, especially in high winds.

Since inexpensive electric heat will turn a cold frame into a hotbed, the older fashioned manure-heated hotbed is seldom seen. Heat is not needed for most of the uses to which a cold frame can be put, and being without objectionable dirt or odor it can be placed near the house, where steps will be saved.

The illustration is practical working drawing of a standard one-sash cold frame. Standard glazed sash 3 by 6 feet in size can be made of any convenient dimensions, if sash of a suitable size is available. Sash covered with transparent plastic materials will be much lighter, and also will allow the sun's rays to pass through to the plants.

The usual practice is to sink the frame into the ground about six inches, and to pile earth around it outside for insulation. Inside it may be tilted to ground level with the best top soil available, or the floor may be covered with two or three inches of cinders or straw, on which shallow seed boxes (daisies) are placed. Many prefer sowing the seeds in flats, which can be carried to the garden at transplanting time.

A location in the full sun all day is required for best results and shelter from cold winds is beneficial. The top of the flat should incline toward the south. Heavy boards of cypress white pine, or redwood are preferable, since the frame will often be wet and must resist decay. Wintered plants can be placed in it, and it will be ready to use when the first signs of spring appear.

entertained at dinner on Tuesday evening for Mr. and Mrs. Orville Stivers, Mrs. Grace Ellis, Mr. and Mrs. Homer Thomas, Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Standford and Mr. Coleman Ellis.

Thomas Moore, a highly respected colored man who, until the last decade or longer, lived in this community, passed from this life on Thursday morning at his home on Waterson Trail. He was in his seventy-fourth year and leaves his wife and eight children, one daughter living in Pennsylvania. He worked for the Frederick family for twenty-five years and was as good as the best. At his funeral were white friends as well as colored. Services were conducted Sunday afternoon at Jeffersontown Colored Baptist Church of which he was a member, where the house was filled to overflowing. The Masons also had charge. Interment took place at Jeffersontown Cemetery.

Mrs. Leo Sparks has been brought home from the Infirmary in Louisville where she was suffering with pneumonia. Her friends are all glad that she is home again and rapidly improving.

Mr. and Mrs. Leo Sparks were recent guests of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Julius Hart.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Holloway, Sr. have purchased a beautiful new Chevrolet sedan.

Mr. Guy Mills and family have rented the house on Bardstown Road from Mrs. Ivan Penton and will move there in the near future.

Long Run News

and daughter Nancy Ann and Mrs. Ray Watson took Sunday dinner with Mr. and Mrs. Robert Long and girls.

Sorry to hear Mr. Seibert Welch burned his hand pretty bad.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Collier and sons visited Mr. and Mrs. Robert Long and girls Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Risner and baby and Mr. and Mrs. Roy Ulery and baby took supper with Mr. and Mrs. Dave Risner and Barbara Saturday night.

Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Markwell visited a little while with Mr. and Mrs. Alex Wilson after church Sunday. The Wilsons are feeling very well these days.

Bardstown Road News
By Mrs. Flannery Frederick

Bro. Wayne Spangler brought an interesting and inspirational message to the Newburg congregation Sunday morning, using as his text Matt. 14, 1 through 4 verses. Fifty-five or more were present in attendance. All teachers were present at Sunday school, but Mr. Shobe and Mr. Cook were still on the sick list, we regret to report.

Our sympathy goes out to Mr. and Mrs. Roy Hart in the loss of their little baby daughter, on Saturday, February 7. She lived only a few hours and besides the parents is survived by one sister and four brothers. "The Lord had need of her."

Mrs. Grace Ellis and son, Coleman Ellis, spent Sunday at Van Buren, Ky., visiting relatives.

The sale of household furnishings at the residence of the late Mrs. J. W. Summers was well attended, on last Saturday afternoon.

Mrs. Katherine Koellner is recovering after a fall down the stairs at her home about ten days ago. She was badly bruised but glad to say no bones were broken.

Good For Every Day

AMONG many New Year greeting cards, bright with their joy-adding messages for that season, came one concluding its cheery salutations with the words, "Happy Eternity."

This unusual expression arrested attention and carried thought beyond the limits of the accustomed good wishes for a happy New Year into the infinite realm of measureless being.

On page 598 of "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," Mary Baker Eddy, the Discoverer and Founder of Christian Science, defines "eternity" in part as "a solar measurement of time; mortality; space for repentance." And she concludes her definition thus: "Time is a reality thought, the divisor of which is the solar year. Eternity is God's measurement of Soul-filled years."

Truly each New Year affords not only "space for repentance" but opportunity to live every moment to the glory of God. But do we not permit memories of the past to torment us with regrets and remorse? Do we not make the present less precious, more struggling? Does our not our concern for the future with its tantalizing uncertainties too often rob us of present joys? To linger in thought over a mistaken past, to worry over an uncertain future, is to waste precious moments of a present glorious with fresh opportunities.

We read in the Bible (1 Peter 3:8): "Use days with the Lord as a thousand years, and a thousand years as one day." What God there is an element of time. Indeed, the only time that men possess is the present moment. And that moment, that so-called time, can be filled with happiness, with health, harmony, progress, for God fills all time and space with His peace and power.

There is never a moment when God is not all. With Him is no beginning and no ending, no finiteness and no limitation. To consider life in the measurements of time is to limit our abilities and lessen our capabilities, to deplete us and deprive us of the joy of accomplishment. Man, the beloved child of God, knows no limitation. He is conscious only of the infinitude of God, the changeless harmony of infinite being. Man's being never reaches a point of satisfied stagnation. Forever unfolding, it is forever expanding.

Someone has said, "There is enough of good for every day." God's idea, man, has the ability to perceive good, to receive it, and to retain it, because he is eternally identified with good and good alone. Hence, his happiness is assured forever, because he is founded upon the eternal fact of the ever-presence of good. For him, indeed, there is always a "Happy Eternity."—The Christian Science Monitor.

Q. What is the name of this cut of meat?
 A. This is a half ham, known as a shank half.

Q. Where does the cut come from, and how is it identified?
 A. The ham shank is a wedge-shaped piece, with the characteristic pink color of smoked pork. It is cut from the shank, or leg, end of a ham, and contains the shank bones.

Q. How should this cut be prepared?
 A. The ham shank may be roasted, or it may be cooked in liquid. It makes an excellent roast for the small family and is easily carved.

Q. The shank half is often considered an economy cut. Is it a good suggestion for coming winter meals?
 A. The shank half, cut up, on a rack, in an open roasting pan, roasted in a slow oven (300° F.) allowing 15 minutes per pound, or until a meat thermometer registers 160° F. When cooked in liquid, vegetables are often added to the ham shank. The meat is covered with liquid, then cooked at simmering temperature until tender, about 30 minutes per pound.

"Remove Sudden Financial Burden"

A RECOMMENDATION BY McAfee

McAfee Funeral Home
 HIGHLAND 1231
 Buetchel, Ky., January 20, 1948

An Open Letter To All:

By low, regular payments to an established Old Line Legal Reserve Insurance Company, it is now possible to be guaranteed a complete funeral whenever death occurs, no matter how few of the payments have been made.

This means that sudden financial burden at a time of sorrow and distress can be removed, simply by planning this financial program in advance.

HERE ARE SOME FACTS YOU SHOULD KNOW

1. Over 300 bonded Funeral Directors, throughout Kentucky service the program, through the Kentucky Funeral Directors Association. We are proud to be a charter member of this group.
2. No physical examination is required.
3. Insurable ages from birth to 90 years.

We believe so sincerely in this insurance that every member of our firm and staff has a personal policy. We heartily recommend the program, and invite your further inquiries by the use of the enclosed coupon, or by telephone.

Sincerely yours friends,
